WILSON'S POLICY TOWARDS MEXICO

City of Mexico, Nov. 4.—In the Washington memorandum it is impressed upon Gen. Huerta that his retirement from the presidency and non-interference on his part are the only steps which will be acceptable to the American government. He is pointedly reminded that any attempt upon his part to leave as his successor any of the men connected with the coup d'état by which he obtained the presidency, or to utilize in the proposed government any of those chosen in the recent elections even those named as Congressmen, would result in the definite breaking of all relations.

It is suggested that Gen. Huerta be succeeded by some man or by some small group of men who will temporarily conduct Mexican National affairs somewhat on the line of a commission form of government and that it be understood that this man or group of men shall immediately take steps to call new elections for the purpose of establishing a permanent government.

Gen. Huerta is reminded that the United States is anxious to avoid trouble, as much for the welfare of Mexico as to preserve international peace. He is finally urged to abandon power and to do it immediately, since the American government, it is indicated, will tolerate no further temporizing.

The report that Washington had sent a new communication to Gen. Huerta spread throughout the city, but aroused only casual interest. The special Cabinet meeting called by the president to today was not held. This is taken as an indication that he is not yet ready to discuss the Washington demands with his Ministers.

NEGRO LYNCHED AT WEWOKA

SLAYER OF DEPUTY SHERIFF STRUNG TO TELEPHONE POLE. MADE CONFESSION.

Wewoka, Okla., Nov. 4.—Summary punishment for the killing of a Seminole county deputy sheriff was meted to John Cudjo, negro, about 30 years of age, Tuesday evening when a mob of Wewoka and Holdenville citizens hanged the black to a telephone pole in front of the county courthouse in Wewoka.

After being drawn up, with a rope around his neck, more than 100 shots were fired into the body of the negro. The mob, believed to have contained more than 300 men, all unmasked, then quietly dispersed and the town was quiet Tuesday night.

A large placard on which was written "To the Memory of Lee Cruce," was tied to the negro's feet as his body swung from the pole.

The negro was lynched while Sheriff Moore and his deputies were still out scouting and there was no interference. When the sheriff returned, he found the much sought for negro in a very public place, but no longer wanted. The body was cut down by the sheriff's force soon afterward.

Cudjo last Saturday night shot and killed Deputy John Dennis as the officer attempted to place him under arrest and had been hiding until captured Tuesday afternoon in the Little River bottoms south of Wewoka. He had worked east along Little river and stolen a horse from a barn south of Holdenville at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. The sheriff and deputies of Hughes county took the trail and followed the negro back toward Wewoka and in a running fight Tuesday afternoon the negro shot one deputy's thumb off and shot another deputy in the leg, but not seriously.

The negro's horse was shot from under him and he then made his retreat on foot to a thicket. At this time the Hughes county officials and posse ran short of ammunition and telephoned to this city and Holdenville for ammunition and reinforcements.

The negro then was chased from the thicket and took refuge in a corn field where the posse closed in on him and he was shot several times and threw up his hands. The black was brought to Wewoka in an automobile. County Judge Norvell questioned him and he admitted killing John Dennis and also told of other crimes he had committed. While the conversation was being taken down for record the mob gathered, the noose soon was slipped around his neck and he was drawn up to a telephone arm.

Sheriff Moore and his deputies of Seminole county and Sheriff McCune and Deputy Hunter of McIntosh county were scouring the hills fifteen miles to the southwest and no interference to the action of the mob was in evidence.

A purse of $800 was made up in thirty minutes in Wewoka this afternoon and offered as a reward for the capture of Cudjo, Seminole and Konawa, two other towns in this county also raised several hundred dollars and a total of $1,600 was offered. While this money was being pledged the negro was being hunted by men determined to avenge the death of Deputy Dennis, who was one of the county's highly respected officers.

Cudjo was wanted in McIntosh county on the charge of murder and had been in hiding for the past year. It was only last week that Cudjo was located in this county.

A rumor was afloat that some of the negroes on Little river in Seminole county were threatening to come to Wewoka if Cudjo was hanged, but on investigation the report proved to be false. Everything is quiet and the citizens here have no fear of an invasion of the negroes, a number of whom were anxious to see that Cudjo was captured.

All Quiet at Wewoka.

From a phone conversation with Wewoka this afternoon the News learned that everything is quiet and no further trouble is expected. The body of the lynched negro was cut down and taken to the Little River settlement for interment. It was first reported at Ada that the negro was killed in the battle with the officers, but the informant of the News stated that although shot in several places, he was still very much alive and resisted when strung up to the telephone pole when strung up to the telephone pole held on until some one kicked him loose.

TAMMANY HALL SNOWED UNDER

Bulletin.
New York, Nov. 5.—The total vote of greater New York, with 76 districts out of 1,780 missing gives Mitchell (Fus), 333,142; McCall (Dem), 224,412, and Russell (Soc.) 30,320.

New York, Nov. 4.—Fusion carried New York city today, electing John Purroy Mitchel mayor by approximately 100,000 plurality and retaining control of the important board of estimate by a safe margin.

Tammany Hall saw its nominee for the mayoralty, Edward E. McCall, go down to defeat by one of the biggest pluralities ever given against a candidate of the organization and about midnight it looked as if Tammany might not even save the New York county offices out of the wreckage. The big vote for Mitchel pulled through the fusion candidates for president of the board of aldermen and comptroller, George McAneny and William A. Prendergast, against whom the independent league as well as democratic organization candidates were running.

The election of Mitchel was apparent early, but not until nearly two-thirds of the returns were in was the success of McAneny and Prendergast assured.

Apparently, with the exception of assemblymen in the districts which usually go democratic and minor officers in some of the boroughs, Tammany succeeded in electing only one of its nominees—Maurice E. Connolly, for borough president of Queens. The fusionists elected borough presidents in Brooklyn, the Bronx and Richmond and apparently have pulled through their candidate for president of the borough of Manhattan, Marcus M. Marks, by a small plurality over Dr. Thomas Darlington, Tammany. The result thus indicated would leave Tammany but one vote out of the sixteen in the board of estimate, which controls the city's purse. A fusion majority in the board of aldermen also seems assured.

In the Sixth assembly district, William Sulzer, recently deposed as governor, was elected on the progressive ticket.

Tammany leaders early conceded the election of Mitchel, but it was not until nearly 11 o'clock that they would concede the board of estimate to fusion.

"It looks as if he had lost everything," Secretary Thomas Smith of Tammany Hall finally admitted.

WRECK ON SANTA FE AT PAULS VALLEY

Pauls Valley, Ok., Nov. 4.—Fireman L. C. Thomas of northbound Santa Fe passenger train No. 12, the Galveston to Chicago Flyer, was killed and the engine demolished when the passenger train crashed into a mixed passenger train from the Lindsey branch of the Santa Fe in the north yards at Pauls Valley late this afternoon. Several cars on the mixed train were hurled from the track, a number of cattle in a stock car being killed. No one was seriously hurt except the fireman of the passenger train.

DEMOCRATS VICTORIOUS

SWEEPING ENDORSEMENT OF WILSON'S POLICIES WHERE. EVER AN ISSUE.

New York, Nov. 4.—Election returns at a late hour Tuesday night showed a complete triumph for the democrats in Massachusetts, where a governor and state ticket were chosen in a four-cornered fight; the selection of a democratic governor and state ticket in Virginia without contest, the ascendancy of fusion over Tammany in New York city with indications of a republican victory for the New York assembly and judicial ticket and a close fight for the state ticket New Jersey, where President Wilson and administration forces fought to elect James F. Fielder to the governorship.

A. D. COON — at Ramsey Drug Co.

In Maryland a democratic senator was chosen.

In Massachusetts David I. Walsh, democrat, present lieutenant governor was elected by a plurality of about 50,000 over Augustus P. Gardner, republican; Charles S. Bird, progressive and Governor Eugene N. Foss, independent, Henry C. Stuart was chosen governor of Virginia, together with an entire state ticket, republicans and progressives having declined to name candidates because of inability to agree on a united ticket.

Returns from New Jersey were delayed, though democratic leaders claimed a safe plurality for James F. Fielder for governor over Edward C. Stokes, republican, and Everett Colby progressive. In the early returns Stokes and Fielder were running neck and neck. The democrats claim Hudson county for Fielder by 25,000, while republican leaders asserted supremacy for Stokes. Fielder, who succeeded President Wilson as governor of New Jersey, had the support of the national administration, several members of the cabinet taking the stump in his behalf. President Wilson and his policies were made the dominant issue.

In New York city the triumph of the fusion ticket was assured and late returns from the state indicated a republican majority in the general assembly and the selection of a republican chief justice of the court of appeals and nine supreme court justices. For United States senator Maryland chose Blair Lee, democrat.

Democracy triumphed in the Twentieth New York congressional district, where Jacob H. Cantor was elected, in the Thirteenth New York, George W. Loft succeeded the late "Tim" Sullivan and in the Third Maryland district Charles P. Coady was the choice.

Returns from the Third Massachusetts district had not been received at a late hour, but democratic leaders claimed a victory.

With some people broadmindedness in others is to be judged by the extent they approve of or wink at their pet short comings.

The tiger is the emblem of Tammany Hall. Judging from past history the tiger has about as many lives as any other cat, a fact the victorious fusionists of New York might do well to remember during their term of office.

Evidently Sulzer of New York is thoroughly convinced that the man who laughs last is the one who laughs best. Tammany has been overwhelmingly beaten and he has been returned to the legislature. Stirring times are in prospect when that body meets.

Tuesday's election indicates that the country is well satisfied with Wilson's administration. The Democrats more than held their own everywhere, except in New York, where the Republicans seem to have gained the lower house of the legislature, and in that state national questions did not enter. It was Tammany and anti-Tammany there.

The prospect for another big victory on the gridiron Monday looks bright for Ada. Alva has a strong team but the Ada boys are working like beavers and will take no chances. If they are beaten Alva can feel greatly elated, for it takes a real team to lick the Ada aggregation. At all events, we expect to have an account of another overwhelming victory for Ada in Tuesday's paper.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediments, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. (Adv.)

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. Some months ago the postoffice inspector sent here to look over the proposed rural route out of Ada approved everything with the condition that a few minor improvements, including a bridge a few miles west of town, be made on the road. This afternoon the yard receipts of cotton totaled 6,364 bales, and the round bale gin had turned out 1,378, equal to 689 square bales, thus making a total of 7,053 bales. The receipts are still heavy and it will be sometime yet before the last is brought in. The price has shown some improvement today over the level at which it has remained for some days past.

Luncheon and Handkerchief Shower.

Miss Gertrude Thompson gave a luncheon and handkerchief shower, Saturday at one o'clock in honor of a coming bride, Miss Alpha Sledge.

The table was decorated in pink, the roses, candle shades and mainline bows carrying out the color scheme.

Suspended from the chandelier was a wreath of smilax studded with stars. Above this hung a crescent moon which descended at the close of the luncheon disclosing the handkerchiefs the balance of the room was lavishly decorated in green vines and vases of pink roses.

The luncheon was a progressive affair, the guests of honor and the hostess being seated at the large table and the guests progressing to them in turn between the courses.

Miss Allen gave a toast to the bride, Miss Beck, the groom and Miss Sims, the girls left behind.

It was a most enjoyable affair the fortunate guests were: Misses Alpha Sledge, Fannie J. Allen, Magdelna Beck, Catherine Edmiston, Sadie Edmiston, Ada Norris, Otto Garrison, Ruth Sowers, Annie Mae Sims, Rebecca Tolbert Gladys Young, Mrs. Haraway and Mrs. Don Tolbert, assisted the hostess.

Nat C. Goodwin as Fagin in "Oliver Twist"

The actor's art-work has no niche but actual presence on the scene, no frame but the proscenium, no page but the memory. In a moment the voice and figure are gone and leave neither echo nor shadow. The painter transmits his pictures, the sculptor his statues, the architect his monumental columns and domes; the poet, his living, breathing words and the musician his scores, which live on forever; but the actor leaves nothing with the stamp of his genius upon it to exemplify and perpetuate the character of his methods or the masterpieces of his art.

The annals of the stage are not skeleton etchings to those who ever heard or saw the vanished artist in whom the most beautiful dreams of poetry and forms of thought lived and charmed; kindly memories transferred to the printed page have hitherto been the only enduring recompense. However, now, thanks to the inventive genius which makes possible the motion picture film, the actor may have his achievements made enduring. Thus far but two great artists have been filmed, Mme. Sarah Bernhardt as "Queen Elizabeth" and Nat C. Goodwin as Fagin in "Oliver Twist." It will be our good fortune to be privileged to see the latter great artist as Fagin in motion pictures at the De Sota on Monday, Nov. 10, and the importance of this occasion should be realized far beyond the coming of the usual dramatic or musical entertainment, inasmuch as it will reveal the possibilities of this form of entertainment, which will make no hope of either historical or artistic a secret to one generation, for through the medium of the motion picture any event may be preserved for an indefinite posterity.

MUSKOGEE LAWYERS WANT BIG FEE

Muskogee, Ok., Nov. 5.—One of the largest suits that has ever been filed in Muskogee county was filed yesterday morning in the superior court by attorneys Rosser & Cochran. The suit is for $98,106.76 alleged by the plaintiffs to be due them as attorney fees.

Pres. C. West and the law firm of Kistler, McAdams & Haskell are the plaintiffs in the suit and they are suing the Frederick H. Severs estate.

The attorneys declare in their petition that when Frederick Severs died April 23, 1912, he left an estate of $1,780,921.78. Albert Z. English and William J. Cook were appointed administrators of the estate and Annie A. Severs, Bessie E. English, Mary Severs Owens, and Annie S. Cook were stated in the will of the deceased to be the heirs.

Samuel B. Severs, a son of the millionaire capitalist, was left out of the will and gave notice that he would protest. He employed the plaintiffs as his attorneys, but after a conference between the plaintiffs and the defendants, Samuel Severs withdrew from the compact. The attorneys declare that their client and the defendants conspired to beat them out of their fees and made an amiable agreement whereby the defendants paid to Samuel Severs the sum of $38,000.

The lawyers failed to make their former client a party in the suit. Their petition is an extensive affair with an itemized list of the late Colonel Severs' property. The wealthy cattleman owned valuable lands all over the country. He possessed $100,000 worth of property in Chicago, Illinois, and about $293,921.78 of his fortune was found invested in Colorado real estate.

COTTON CROP

SUMMARY JULY 11

The week was a normal and hence a favorable one for the season. Temperatures were quite high over a great part of the belt, but toward the end were materially moderated. Generally speaking there was an abundance of moisture in the soil and since the cultivation was near perfect the plant stood the excess of temperature quite well and continued its growth and fruiting in a satisfactory manner.

There is no striking change from the conditions of one week ago and this of itself is a favorable item since last week crop did well and was in good condition.

Little or no rain fell in Texas and Oklahoma, where already the supply of moisture was abundant, while down the Mississippi valley there were many showers and locally heavy rains which relieved an incipient drouth and set the cotton to growing rapidly. Showers fell also in the eastern states and were of benefit. As a whole more rain in Alabama and states eastward would be desirable, though not necessary at this time.

In Eastern Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi weevils are more numerous than in several years and their appearance has aroused the planters' alarm. As yet their depredations have been quite limited.

BY STATES.

North Carolina—Week's weather favorable and some excellent reports. Conditions seem irregular. In places plant has made slow growth and is yet quite small.

South Carolina—There are many good crops in this state. But in localities plant remains small and stands are uneven. Generally it is growing and fruiting well and is nicely cultivated.

Georgia—About half of crop through state seems of good size and doing well. Other half small but thrifty and because of lack of size is reported late. Cultivation good and rains at end of week beneficial.

Alabama—Fair growth during week and plant fruiting well, while excellent cultivation is still striking feature of situation. Rains at week-end of vast benefit. Dry in spots.

Mississippi—Fields in highest possible state of cultivation and plant making rapid growth. Rains not well distributed but in nick of time and of vast benefit. Much fear of weevils.

Tennessee—Farmers beginning to "lay by" splendid rains and excellent prospect for big yield on healthy stocky plant which is, however, small.

Arkansas—Rains during week greatly improved cotton. Is fruiting well. There are no complaints with every prospect for a large yield.

Louisiana—Favorable week. Rains beneficial. Plants making bolls rapidly and while weevils are spread over all of state no important damage has been done.

Oklahoma—Excellent crop. Did well during week. High temperatures did no damage. Almost no complaints.

Texas—Dry hot week. Crop as whole did well, only few localities suffering from heat. Plant is growing fruiting and developing rapidly. Weevils are more or less numerous in eastern belt and southwest coast but damage is small so far, while south of Cuero it is estimated that fair crop has already been made ahead of them.

W. B. Westcott left Sunday morning for St. Louis and Chicago where he will remain a few days. He will be accompanied home by Mrs. Westcott, who spent several weeks there.

THE Melting of Molly

By MARIA THOMPSON
DAVISS

Copyright, 1912, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

No, I wasn't twenty, and this town was full of women who were aunts and cousins and law kin to me, and nobody did anything for me. They all said with a sigh of relief, "It will be such a nice, safe thing for you, Molly." And they really didn't mean anything by tying up a gay, dancing, frolicking, prancing colt of a girl with a terribly ponderous bridle. But God didn't want to see me always trotting along slow and tired and not caring what happened to me, even pounds and pounds of plumpness, so he found use for Mr. Carter in some other place but this world, and I feel that he is going to see me through whatever happens. If some of the women in my missionary society knew how friendly I feel with God they would put me out for contempt of court.

No, the town didn't mean anything by chastening my spirit with Mr. Carter, and they didn't consider him in the matter at all, poor man! Of that I feel sure. Hillsboro is like that. It settled itself here in a Tennessee valley a few hundreds of years ago and has been hatching and clucking over its own small affairs ever since. All the houses set back from the street with their wings spread out over their gardens, and mothers here go on hovering even to the third and fourth generation. Lots of times young, long legged, frying size boys scramble out of the nests and go off to college and decide to grow up where their crow will be heard by the world. Alfred was one of them.

And, too, occasionally some man comes along from the big world and marries a plump little brawler and takes her away with him, but mostly they stay and go to hovering life on a corner of the family estate. That's what I did.

I was a poor little lost chick with frivolous tendencies, and they all clucked me over into this empty Carter nest which they considered well feathered for me. It gave them all a sensation when they found out from the will just how well it was feathered. And it gave me one too. All that money would make me nervous if Mr. Carter hadn't made Dr. John its guardian, though I sometimes feel that the responsibility of me makes him treat me as if he were my stepgrandfather-in-law. But all in all, though stiff in its knees with aristocracy, Hillsboro is lovely and loving, and couldn't inquisitiveness be called just real affection with a kind of squint in its eye?

And there I sat on my front steps, being embraced in a perfume of everybody's lilacs and peachblow and sweet spring and affectionate interest and moonlight, with a letter in my hand from the man whose two photographs and many letters I had kept locked up in the garret for years. Is it any wonder I tingled when he told me that he had never come back because he couldn't have me and that now the minute he landed in America he was going to lay his heart at my feet? I added his honors to his prostrate heart myself, and my own beat at the prospect. All the eight years faded away and I was again back in the old garden down at Aunt Adeline's cottage saying goodby, folded up in his arms. That's the way my memory put the scene to me, but the word "folded" made me remember that blue muslin dress again. I had promised to keep it and wear it for him when he came back—and I couldn't forget that the blue belt was just twenty-three inches and mine is—no, I won't write it. I had got that dress out of the old trunk not ten minutes after I had read the letter and measured it.

No, nobody would blame me for running right across the garden to Dr. John with such a real trouble as that. All of a sudden I hugged the letter and the little book up close to my breast and laughed until the tears ran down my cheeks.

Then before I went into the house I assembled my garden and had family prayers with my flowers. I do that because they are all the family I've got, and God knows that all his budding things need encouragement, whether it is a widow or a snowball bush. He'll give it to us.

And I'm praying again as I sit here and watch for the doctor's light to go out. I hate to go to sleep and leave it burning, for he sits up so late, and he is so gaunt and thin and tired looking most times. That's what the last prayer is about, almost always—sleep for him and no night call!

LEAF SECOND.

A Love Letter, Loaded.

THE very worst page in this red—red devil—I'm glad I've written it at last—of a book is the fifth. It says:

"Breakfast—one slice of dry toast, one egg, fruit and a tablespoonful of baked cereal, small cup of coffee, no sugar, no cream." And me with two

Jersey cows full of the richest cream in Hillsboro, Harpeth valley, out in my pasture!

"Dinner—one small lean chop, slice of toast, spinach, green beans and lettuce salad. No dessert or sweet." The blue grass in my yard is full of fat little fryers, and I wish I were a sheep if I have to eat lettuce and spinach for grass. At least, I'd have more than one chop inside me then.

"Supper—slice of toast and an apple." Why the apple? Why supper at all?

Oh, I'm hungry, hungry until I cry in my sleep when I dream about a muffin! I thought at first that getting out of bed before my eyes are fairly open and turning myself into a circus actor by doing every kind of overhand, foot, arm and leg contortion that the mind of cruel man could invent to torture a human being with, would kill me before I had been at it a week, but when I read on page sixteen that as soon as all that horror was over I must jump right into the tub of cold water I kicked, metaphorically speaking. And I've been kicking ever since, literally to keep from freezing.

But, as cruel a death as freezing is, it doesn't compare to the tortures of being melted. Judy administers it to me, and her faithful heart is so wrong with compassion that she perspires almost as much as I do. She wrings a linen sheet out in a caldron of boiling water and shrouds me in it for the agony—and then more and more blanket windings envelop me until I am like the mummy of some Egyptian giantess. I have ice on the back of my neck and my forehead and murder for the whole world in my heart. Once I got so discouraged at the idea of having all this hades in this life that I mingled tears with the beads of perspiration that rolled down my cheeks, and she snatched me out of those steaming grave clothes in less time than it takes to tell it, soused me in a tub of cold water, fed me a chicken wing and a hot biscuit and the information that I was "good looking enough for anybody to eat up alive without all this foolishness," all in a very few seconds. Now, I have to beg her to help me, and I heard her tell her nephew, who does the gardening, that she felt like an undertaker with such goings on. At any rate, if it all kills me it won't be my fault if anybody has to lie in saying that I was "beautiful in death."

But now that more than a month has passed, I really don't mind it so much. I feel so good and strong and prancy all the time that I can't keep from bubbling. I have to smile at myself.

Then another thing that helps is Billy and his ball. I never could really play with him before, but now I can't help it. But an awful thing happened about that yesterday. We were in the garden playing over by the lilac bushes, and Billy always beats me, because when he runs to base he throws himself down and slides along on the grass on his little stomach as he sees the real players do over at the ball grounds. Then all of a sudden, before I knew it, I just did the same thing, and we slid to the flowerpot we use as a base together, each on his own stomach. And what did Billy do but begin right there on the grass the kind of a tussle we always have in the big rocking chair on the porch! Over and over we rolled, Billy chuckling and squealing, while I laughed myself all out of breath. I'm glad I always would wear delicious petticoats, for there, looking right over my front fence, I discovered Judge Benton Wade. I wish I could write down how I felt, for I never had that sensation before, and I don't believe I'll ever have it again.

I have always thought that Judge Wade was really the most wonderful man in Hillsboro, not because he is a judge so young in life that there is only a white sprinkle in his lovely black hair, that grows back off his head like Napoleon's and Charles Wesley's, but because of his smile, which you wait for so long that you glow all over when you get it. I have seen him do it once or twice at his mother when he seats her in their pew at church and once at little Mamie Johnson when she gave him a flower through their fence as he passed by one day last week, but I never thought I should have one all to myself. But there it was, a most beautiful one—long and slow and distinctly mine—at least I didn't think much of it was for Billy. I sat up and blushed as red all over as I do when I first hit that tub of cold water.

MINERS FIGHTING

THE NEW LAW

S. M. Boydston, a coal miner who works in the Great Western mine at Wilburton, was in the city this morning scattering literature opposing the mining law passed by the recent legislature and referred to the people by referendum petition at the August election. Mr. Boydston says that the law was originally introduced was designed to better the conditions of the men in the mines by compelling the operators to provide wash houses and other necessities which they have always refused to do by other methods. However, some one managed to tack on an amendment that made the bill the worst imaginable. Br. Boydston and other miners say it will force many of the small operators to shut down and leave the business in the hands of the big men who control mines where the vein runs nearly level instead of at a sharp angle as is the case with the small men who were not on the ground as soon as the big ones who copped the most desirable fields.

As explained by him the new law attempts to regulate the method of mining, providing that a block of coal must be mined under before being blasted off with powder and throwing restrictions around it that will make accidents much more frequent than heretofore. Since most of the coal rest on a hard slate formation, the new law means much more work for the miners in digging every ton of coal produced. The miners are paid by the ton and with the additional work that must be done under the provisions it will be impossible for them to live, and any increase of wages will mean a higher price for coal. As Mr. Boydston puts the matter, it is a fight for existence that is being put up by the miners, while the big operators are putting forth every effort to sustain the bill as passed by the legislature.

COMPLIMENTS FORTOTOC COUNTY COURT OFFICIALS

You may say for me that nowhere have I met a finer set of court officials than you have here at Ada," remarked Attorney Ben Williams of Norman to the News reporter Saturday afternoon. They showed us every courtesy and attention throughout the entire week. I also desire to compliment your County Attorney, R. C. Roland, who is certainly a good man for the place."

Attorney Tom Farris of Stratford, who was also present, gave Judge Williams' sentiments his hearty approval.

Kingston is after an oil mill and the Messenger states that it is a certainty.

MURRAY IS UNCERTAIN

for governor who is right, who would make the race and could win—I would gladly contribute my best efforts toward his success—but I would want him to be right, right on public education, with a vision broad enough to see its wholesome needs in all its parts; right on our constitution and its proper construction and then he must be both honest, able and courageous. Milas Lasater is such a man, and you have such a ban there in Stillwater, if he would run, President J. H. Connell, of the A. & M. College.

Then, there is another side. To remain in congress is easy. It pays well, and to a man who understands parliamentary law and the modus operandi of legislating, there is hope of becoming speaker of the United States House of Representatives which, in point of honor, is even greater than United States senator or membership in the cabinet.

I am reciting these things to you to call attention to the difficulties that confront the state, and while, as I stated to the public in 1912 when I announced for congress, I will be a candidate for some office in 1914, I cannot say just now what office. I have made much sacrifice in the interest of the people of Oklahoma, and am willing to make any other, provided it will bring results, and unless I can accomplish more than has been accomplished in the immediate past I would rather than be governor to retire to private life with the honorable achievements I have already made.

Again thanking you for the kindly interest manifested by your letter, I am yours sincerely,

WM. H. MURRAY.

Khorassan Knights in Session.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 14.—Minneapolis is entertaining this week a large gathering of prominent Pythians from all parts of the country. The occasion is the national assembly of the Knights of Khorassan. The order, while not a part of the Knights of Pythias, is affiliated with them to the extent of seeking its membership only from the Pythian order.

The Knights of Khorassan has had a gratifying increase in its membership the past few years and the present convention promises to be the largest in the history of the order. Today was devoted largely to the reception of the arriving delegations. The program for the remainder of the week calls for a banquet at the Hotel Radisson, a magnificent illuminated parade of the patrol teams and several excursions and other features of entertainment, in addition to the daily business sessions.
